ENERGY PROGRAM

control and lower the end-cost of electricity and natural gas

WHY CHOOSE THE ANPHA ENERGY PROGRAM?

Organizations are challenged by the complexity, cost, price volatility and confusing options that are related to procuring electricity and natural gas services. The reality of today's markets creates unnecessary risks for decision makers, which can have catastrophic impacts on your organization's cash flow and bottom line.

The good news is that the ANPHA energy program can help mitigate these risks and bring a level of simplicity and control with respect to electricity and/or natural gas expenses.

KEY FEATURES OF THE ANPHA ENERGY PROGRAM

The Power of Aggregation: This model enables our members to combine their electricity and natural gas volumes together into a large pool of energy requirements. This pool is then taken to market where the various suppliers compete for the business. This competition helps secure a more competitive price than can likely be secured by going directly to the energy retailer. Our members stand to gain from this approach, lowering the end cost of energy for each organization. The aggregation and procurement processes also comply with stringent policies and laws including the New West Partnership Trade Agreement (NWPTA).

Energy Expertise and Market Intelligence: ANPHA has chosen 8760 as our trusted partner to facilitate and support our energy program for our members. 8760 employs professional experts in the energy industry and their team brings indepth knowledge and understanding of the industry to the table. They work directly with ANPHA members to ensure you get sound advice and a solution that meets the needs of your organization at a favorable price.

BENEFITS OF PARTICIPATING IN THE ANPHA ENERGY PROGRAM

- ✓ Through the power of aggregation, our members stand to gain a better price than can likely be secured by going directly to a supplier on your own
- ✓ Provides cost certainty and/or cost savings with respect to electricity and/or natural gas usage
- ✓ Provides peace of mind that your electricity and natural gas expenses are being strategically managed with the best interests of your organization in mind
- ✓ Provides transparency with respect to the available options and the fees associated with those solutions
- ✓ Frees up time and resources so that you can focus on activities that are core to your organization
- ✓ Provides trusted, unbiased advice with respect to very complicated and volatile services utilized by your organization

Unbiased advice: The AHPHA energy program is designed with the best interests of our members in mind. This means 8760 as our partner will provide advice and solutions that work to achieve the expense management goals of your organization with respect to electricity and natural gas usage. It is information and advice that you can trust and count on.

Administrative and service support: Under the ANPHA energy program, you will have access to administrative and service support with respect to your ongoing energy needs. Things like billing inquiries, site adds and drops, will be handled through a centralized team that is there to serve you. This will remove burdens on your internal resources to manage any service issues with the supplier and will streamline your operations in this area.

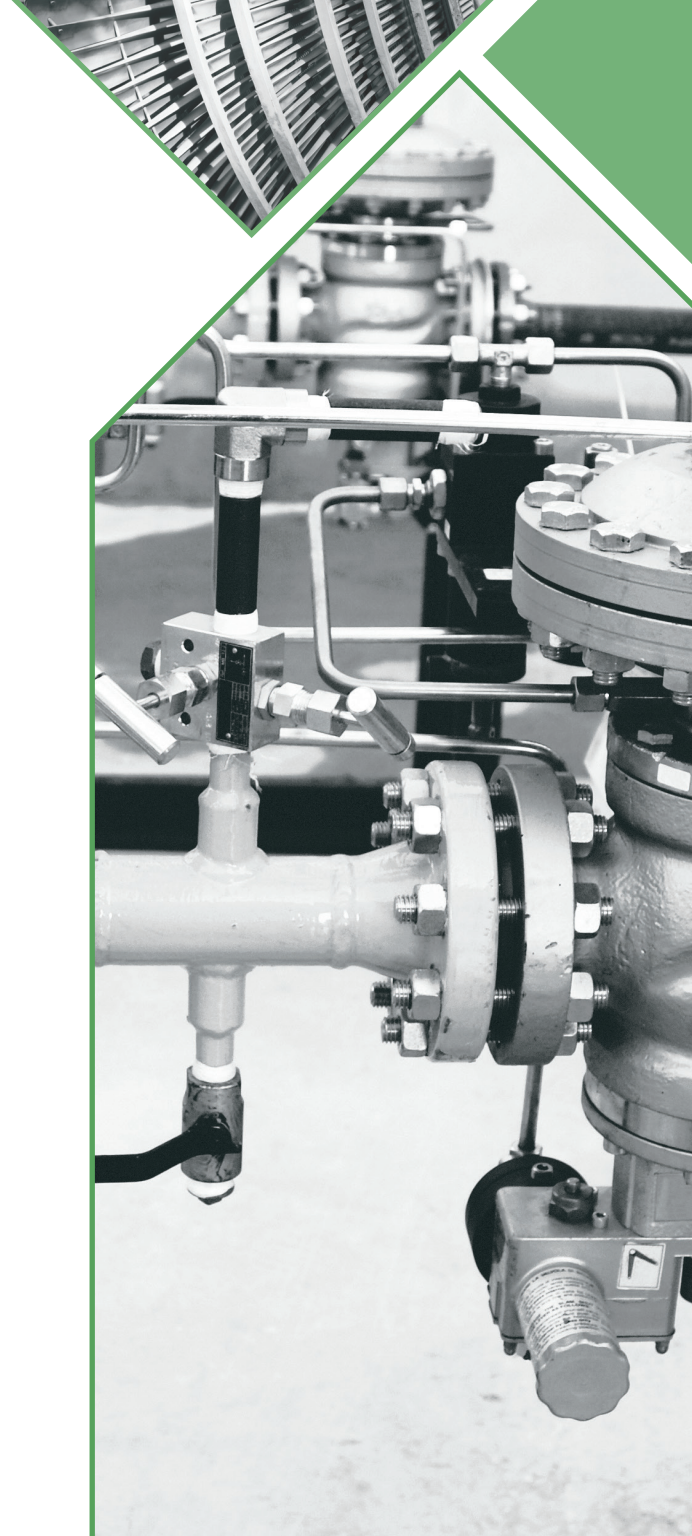

Energy efficiency audits and consumption reduction strategies: Through our partnership with 8760, your organization will gain access to experts that can help determine the overall energy efficiency of your operations and present options that may reduce consumption which in turn can lead to lower energy costs. This can lead to further, significant potential savings for your organization.

THE PROCESS IS EASY

Time is money so it is important to keep things simple. Our energy program takes this to heart so the process involved to participate in the program is easy. Here is what is required:

- Go to www.8760.ca/AHPHA for more information on our energy partner and the ANPHA energy program
- Provide your current electricity or natural gas bills for review
- 8760 will examine the bills and look for opportunities to improve the current situation either with respect to the commodity price and/or distribution and transmission costs
- 8760 will provide its recommendations regarding the best course of action based on discussed goals and strategies
- If opportunity exists, your organization will be included in the aggregation pool which will be tendered out for bid by various suppliers to secure a commodity price and term
- At the conclusion of the tender process, a final price will be provided to your organization along with applicable supporting paperwork
- 8760 will take over management of your energy program for the duration of your contract
- It's that easy!
